The Department is an agency of the State of Washington with jurisdiction over state fish, shellfish, and wildlife resources and charged with the duty of protecting, conserving, managing, and enhancing those resources. Wash. Rev. Code, Title 77. Pursuant to these statutory obligations, the Department brings this motion to intervene on behalf of the citizens of the State of Washington, who, by the law of that state, own the fish and wildlife resources.

III.

The Department is a state fish and wildlife agency which is required to be consulted in determining losses to the fish, shellfish, and wildlife resources caused by construction and operation of hydroelectric projects, and to be consulted in identifying the appropriate measures to preserve and enhance those resources. Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act, 16 U.S.C. § 662(a), (b). The Department is authorized to provide recommended terms and conditions to the Commission that shall be included in any new license unless the Commission finds, in writing, that the Department's recommendations are inconsistent with applicable law. IV.

The City of Port Townsend, Washington, filed an Application for a Competing Preliminary Permit pursuant to Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. §§ 791(a) – 825(r), for a project known as Admiralty Inlet Tidal Energy Project.

V.

The proposed Admiralty Inlet Tidal Energy Project (Project) would be located under water in a section of Admiralty Inlet in the Puget Sound in Island, Jefferson and Kitsap Counties, Washington. Admiralty Inlet lies between the Olympic Peninsula on the mainland of the State of Washington and Whidbey Island on the Puget Sound. The proposed Project would consist of: (1) 450 Tidal In Stream Energy Conversion (TIEC) devices consisting of, (2) rotating propeller blades 20 meters in diameter, (3) integrated generators with a capacity of 50 kW, (4) anchoring systems, (5) mooring lines, and (6) interconnection transmission lines. The Project is estimated to have an annual generation of 146.2 gigawatt-hours per-year, which would be used within City limits or service area limits. This proposed Project may adversely affect fish or wildlife under the jurisdiction of the Department.

VI.

For the above reasons, the Department has a significant interest which may be directly affected by the outcome of this proceeding, and this interest is not adequately represented by existing parties. The Department's participation in this proceeding is in the public interest.
